"BIG THREE" FIRST PLACED IN NOMINATION; CONTINUOUS SESSION UNTIL NOMINEE CHOSEN

LONG, NOISY DEMONSTRATIONS HELD ON CONVENTION FLOOR BY FOLLOWERS OF "BIG THREE"

COLISEUM, CHICAGO, June 11.—The big three, Lowden, Johnson and Wood—were all placed in nomination before the Republican convention today during the first four hours of a sweltering session. Before the session opened it was understood that the delegates would remain in continuous session until a nominee was chosen. Each of the nominations was accompanied with tumultuous demonstrations on the floor and in the galleries, flags, banners and like noises of cheering, shouting, and waving delegates practicing about the hall, running along at express speed to make up for the time lost in settlement of the treaty minutes where there were more than two seconds. All the nominating speakers got ready responses from the convention. Senator Charles S. Wheeler, of California, who nominated Johnson, and by inference to William G. McAdoo as "the crown prince," "Are you prepared for four years more of them?" he shouted. The crowd answered, "no, no."

But when Mr. Wheeler referred to Senator Johnson as having had an inadequate campaign fund, the crowd let go round of boos, jeers and hoots.

Former Senator Beveridge admonished the crowd to remain quiet and let the speakers proceed.

An uproarious 10-minute demonstration followed the nomination of General Wood by Governor Henry Allen of Kansas. Frank Knox of New Hampshire, the Wood floor leader, and Mrs. Douglas Robinson of New York, sister of the late Theodore Roosevelt, delivered the Wood seconding address.

Mrs. Robinson, describing Leonard Wood as a man of Theodore Roosevelt's type, brought the convention to its feet repeatedly as in ringing tones she denounced the Wilson administration for its course in the world war. The Lowden supporters apparently were as well organized for demonstration as the Wood forces and they carried on an uproar on the floor and in the galleries. The Lowden demonstration lasted 43 minutes.

Miss Dorothy Disney, a daughter of a Muskogee, Oklahoma, delegate was carried about the hall on the shoulders of two of the Oklahoma delegates.

(Editor's Note: The Johnson demonstration was still in progress when The Times went to press.)

Eager to End Convention COLISEUM, CHICAGO, June 11.—In spite of the sweltering temperature inside the convention hall, the delegates began to file into their places a full half hour before today's session was to begin. They all were roaring to have

LEADER OF N. Y. WOMEN ATTENDS G. O. P. MEETING

Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp.
Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp of Syracuse, a leader among the women of New York state, is among the great number of prominent women attending the Republican national convention.

THE YOUNG LADY ACROSS THE WAY

The young lady across the way says...

It over with and the possibility that the nominations might be made today and the convention ended seemed to take some of the edge off their distress from the heat. It gave promise of being the hottest day of the convention in all records. The sun got to work with a vigor exceeding even the feverish efforts of candidates' managers in their eleventh-hour efforts to line up a winning combination.

Most of those on the convention floor and in the galleries came with fans and many delegates stripped off their coats before they took their seats. For the time being at least the hot weather was the big feature in the convention picture.

At 9:30, however, when the convention should have been called to order, there still were great patches of empty seats in the delegates' section and the platform was almost empty. The crowd built up an ever growing rumble of conversation while it waited for the party leaders to get through with their conferences in their hotels, a mile away.

During the wait the delegates still were asking one another who was to be nominated and the usual reply was distinctly of the "damfino" character. The managers of all the candidates tried to outdo one another in effusiveness over the result. The Wood people were claiming a victory by the third or fourth ballot. The predictions of the others were less definite.

The Wood managers, who had planned to have a string of second speeches for their candidate, revised their program at the last minute so that only Frank Knox of New Hampshire and Mrs. Douglas Robinson of New York would second General Wood's nomination.

When 9:45 passed the delegates were was pretty well filled but not a single one of the first time leaders put out in his appearance. The hand filled in with something that sounded like a lullaby.

Candidates Fail To Show Up

For the first time since the convention began, candidates for the presidency were missing from the floor. Dr. Butler of New York gave his proxy to a woman who sat in a box. Governor Sprague dropped in for a few minutes but announced he would return to his hotel when balloting started.

The friends of Senator Johnson said the delegates expected their candidate to show himself in the collection. Delaware delegates said the plan to nominate T. Coleman Dupont had been abandoned but the delegation would vote for him on the first ballot.

A robust delegate from West Virginia, manifestly preparing for a tempestuous fight, took off his gaiters and put them in his pocket. Just about that time the hand played "Honey, Bumble, I've been thinking."

Loose Wilds Destructive Gavel.
Two minutes before 10 o'clock Senator Lodge, the chairman, and Will Hays, appeared on the platform, but the milling delegates hardly noticed. The hand was checked off and a minute later the convention was called to order on a newly used gavel plank.

Yesterday it had nearly smashed the thin table top.

Rev. John Meyer of Chicago offered prayer.

A new pounding board for Senator Lodge's gavel was an innovation. It was composed of several planks as a shock absorber for a table but it took off the table's punch.

The delegates kept impatiently waiting their fans and shuffling their feet during the prayer and afterward Senator Lodge rapped hard many times before he got the convention quieted down.

Tribute to Roosevelt

By a rising vote and in a roar of applause the convention then adopted a resolution offered by Alexander P. Moore of Pittsburg, expressing "deep sympathy for the death of Theodore Roosevelt, loved universally and to be loved as long as our nation

HOT IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO, June 11.—A continuation of the heat wave which has developed (Chicago) for the past two days officially was forecast for today. The highest temperature yesterday was 92, a record for 1920, and led in comparisons with weather conditions at the last Republican convention here in 1916, when it rained for sixty consecutive hours, a record for Chicago. One death from heat, the first of the year, and three prostrations were reported yesterday.

cherishes its noble patriots.

Senator Lodge announced amid more cheers that the time had come for the convention to hear nominations for the presidency. Alabama passed when the roll call of states began. Arizona yielded to Kansas. In a noisy demonstration Governor Allen was escorted to the platform and began his speech nominating General Wood.

Senator Lodge shook hands with Governor Allen and the crowd cheered, waving Wood pennants, hats and handkerchiefs.

During Governor Allen's recital of General Wood's record of public service the Wood supporters interrupted frequent cheers.

There was much moaning around among the delegates, however, and a mild rumble of conversation kept up. There were many Wood boosters in the gallery and they kept breaking in with applause as Governor Allen recounted the achievements of his candidate.

As the unbroken convention rolled on, everything according to schedule, Senators Lodge and Smoot of the old Republican school but incontestable slide by side behind the chairman's table.

Feathers Loosed From Ceiling.
At the concluding word of the nomination speech thousands of many colored turkey feathers which have been the convention badge of the Wood people were loosed from the ceiling of the coliseum and floated down over the cheering delegates.

The lights were turned on to give the photographers a chance while many of those on the floor mounted chairs and waved Wood banners.

Approximately 200 delegates, perhaps more or less, were taking part in the cheering and flag waving. Many of those on the floor rolled like real Indians and they looked like Indians, with the hats of the women and the collars of the men decorated by the falling feathers.

When the governor made a crack at William J. Bryan's celebrated diatribe about a million men springing to arms over night, he looked down at where Mr. Bryan was sitting in the press box. But the Nebraska had his nose to his manuscript, trying to write industriously while a young woman writer was scribbling through the narrow aisle behind his chair. If he heard the reference he did not let on.

Governor Allen worked hard at his speech and the perspiration rolled down in cataracts over his quickly tilted head. While his speech was being on arrangements were made for Governor Wood's nomination speech to follow General Wood's. Arkansas delegates, next on the roll, said the

Every one of the groups of delegates and visitors to the G. O. P. convention, seen about the candidates' headquarters and hotel lobbies, has its notable men who have been in the public eye in former years or in the recent political news. The two glimpses above show this. Senator Lodge was the man chosen to deliver the party's keynote speech. Senator Harding is, of course, the favorite son. Senator Lenroot is listed among the possible dark horses.

CANDIDATES REMAINED IN ROOMS AT HOTELS

CHICAGO, June 11.—While the speeches were being made at the Coliseum today, the leading candidates for presidential nomination were in the seclusion of their hotel rooms but all were in constant touch by telephone with the convention hall.

Senator Johnson was closeted with several of his advisers at headquarters. General Wood arrived in the city from Fort Sheridan and called about him the men who were to direct the fight on the floor of the convention. After they had gone to the convention the general held to his rooms. Governor Lowden used the early hours of the day for conferences with his chiefs and then also adjourned to his apartments to await a report on the convention's happenings.

As far as ascertained none of the announced candidates with the exception of Governor Sprague of Pennsylvania, visited the coliseum during the day. Governor Sprague appeared there before the convention but returned to his hotel.

Gov. Allen Describes Wood As Outstanding Candidate Of People

CHICAGO, June 10.—Described as the "outstanding candidate in the minds of the whole people," Major General Leonard Wood was formally nominated today by Governor Henry J. Allen, of Kansas, for the Republican presidential nomination.

"A plain, blunt man, with a blunt belief in facts," Governor Allen said of General Wood, "he is today the best known American."

"No man in America has been given so many constructive things to do in this generation, and no one denies that whatever he has undertaken he has done superbly well."

An unexpected period of confusion has come upon us, in aftermath of the great war. Old ways are lost and leadership, hesitant and indecisive, drifts upon an uncharted sea.

"Under the weak hands of a timid government and social disorders and class-dimmed, issues caught from the world struggle have grown to alarming proportions."

"The unchecked encroachment of slumber greed, the appalling waste of public money by an immoral pandering to class interest and class prejudice, have brought us to a point where the nation demands and the world expects from this great council a leader chosen out of this great need and not through the cunning of political expediency."

"In seeking for the initiative and the prophetic wisdom to guide us in an hour that must be wholly constructive, we are fortunate in a candidate whose record reveals the qualities needed for the task."

"It is not necessary to ask for assurances from General Wood. There is the witness of his service."

A Business Man As Well As Soldier
"You ask for a business man. We present to you a record of four years as governor of Cuba, a record which has gained him international fame as the most successful civil administrator the country has known. Leonard Wood's services in Cuba constitute a page of history which records the cleanest and most unselfish thing one nation ever did for a needy people. Chosen to work out the betterment of the island for whom we had sacrificed our sons, he was given a free hand."

"He reorganized the island and framed a model of government which stands today as proof of his sanity and conservative genius."

"A president must be a business man and more. He must be a statesman. He must have a broad view of the international situation. He must know politics for politics is what gives us

"No man can know him without recognizing the liberality of his mind, his openness to conviction. As Wood once said of him, he is hospitable to advice."

"As president he will not seek to create for himself a neutral background out of mediocre men. The nation will have that to which the people are entitled in its councils—the united brain power of real leaders."

Outstanding Candidate
"The sum total of preferential expressions marks him as the outstanding candidate in the minds of the whole people."

"The choice that is made now may mold the character of the nation for 50 years and perhaps longer, for positive minds are plastic and the leadership that comes now will go far to determine the character of our government henceforth."

"There is not an American worthy to be there who does not believe in the future leadership of this country. We'll have that leadership when we're worthy, and that leadership will not depend upon any international society we may join. It will depend upon the success which we make of the experiment if human government here, and to that call the instinct of every man must rise."

"With full appreciation of the challenge of the hour, I present the name of the man who fits the hour—Leonard Wood."

"We saw him accomplishing what ever task was given into his hands with the cheerful obedience of those who submerge self in service. In our state, where he trained many of our splendid young men, inspiring them with his spirit, fashioning them into the 8th division."

"We watched him go away to the point of embarkation and then at the last moment we read with consternation that his great desire to take his division to the field was not to be granted."

"This man was no whimperer. Not an hour was lost in sulking. Not a word was wasted in criticism. Not an instant spent in mourning over his personal disappointment. We see him coming back to train another division."

"If we can," he said, "we'll make it even better than the one I had hoped to serve in France."

Carries Guarantee Of Fair Play
"No endeavor of his life presents in truer colors his calm and steady strength than the work at Gary. It was the old quarrel that took him there—the struggle between those who hire and those who toil. The only form of civil strife which government still allows to menace a helpless public. He carried to that district the guarantee of fair play. He had been advised not to go to Gary. He was told the situation was full of dynamite. He could have sent a subordinate, but he went in person and dominated the situation by the force of absolute justice. Not a shot was fired or a tear shed. His calm decision at that hour, not only brought security to Gary, but assurance and profound relief to the waiting country. The success of his cause and just endeavor brought back to men their faith in government."

"Again at Omaha in the racial riots in West Virginia in the labor troubles, he displayed not military power, but the peculiar determination which should be always the American pledge to protect the rights of all by firm and righteous government."

Today is Y. W. C. A. tag day. It will also be observed Saturday. On these two days young women of the Y. W. C. A. assisted by Girl Scouts and others interested in the welfare of the young womanhood will be on the streets selling tags, the proceeds received from the sale to go into the Blue Triangle general fund.

There will be booths in the different department stores and young women will be on the down town streets selling tags for any price over a dime. One dollar entitles one to a membership in the Y. W. C. A. Association but any amount smaller is welcomed.

The Girl Scouts who are to make house to house canvass in the sale of tags will wear small blue triangles which is to be their badge of official solicitor. Watch for the girls and young women wearing the blue triangles and then buy a tag.

The sale of tags is one way of raising a small sum which is necessary to complete the Y. W. C. A. budget. The big Y. W. fund was put on two years ago but the fund raised is running low and the amount realized from the sale of tags is expected to relieve the deficit.

The Girl Scouts who are to make house to house canvass in the sale of tags will wear small blue triangles which is to be their badge of official solicitor. Watch for the girls and young women wearing the blue triangles and then buy a tag.

Chief Leedom Faces Charge Of Violating Quarantine Law

Health Commissioner Dr. O. D. Tatle Friday filed a complaint in municipal court against Fire Chief Robert H. Leedom, charging that Leedom removed a quarantine card from his home without the permission of the board of health.

Dr. Tatle says that the chief took the card down before his little girl, Helen Leedom, was released from quarantine, having scarlet fever. The case will be heard before Judge Smeal Saturday morning at 9 o'clock.

GRADUATION EXERCISES OF 1920 CLASS AN IMPRESSIVE EVENT

Many Students Presented With Diplomas; Able Talk Made By Dr. Roy L. Smith

The intense heat was forgotten, the sufferings of fans ceased, while a wave of applause passed over the audience when the heavy curtains parted to disclose the graduating class of 1920, last evening in the auditorium of the Portsmouth High School.

Truly a beautiful picture was presented as the young men and women stepped forward to begin the opening exercises of "Song of the Armorer," by Neil. The girls were attired in frocks of costly white, which enfolded lithe, youthful figures gracefully, in a myriad of ruffles, folds and bands of lace. Each cooed—and they all certainly carried out the popular idea of a sweet girl graduate—carried an old-fashioned bouquet of blood red roses. This last touch added a quaint charm to their modish frocks, which were distinctly modern.

The junior class, in accordance with a custom of P. H. S., long a tradition, sat with skillful fingers, and good taste, transformed the stage into a place of loveliness. Red roses and ferns, interspersed among the footlights, rising in a flowery rope to the tall lanterns filled with June offerings at each end.

The class motto "Esse Quam Videri" (To be rather than to seem) was written in large letters against a latticed background and placed over the heads of the large graduating class.

Rev. C. E. Chandler of the Bigelow, M. E. church led the audience in prayer as he pronounced the invocation.

Beethoven's "Minuet in G" was the theme of a violin solo by Miss Jane Chandler, accompanied by Miss Louise Denny, pianist. Both young musicians played with the skill of diligent practice.

HIGH LIGHTS OF DR. SMITH'S ADDRESS

The "Penalty of Peace" is that we Americans must put to test our boasts of democracy.

American cities are full of people who do not know each other.

What America needs today is a revival of moral character.

If one half as much were being done as complaining in this country, the cost of living would be vastly lowered.

It is easier to accept peace terms than to make them.

The profiteer is the man that takes more from the common store than he puts into it. That makes all of us profiteers today.

The hope of America is to be found in cultivating a living God.

Americans are tired of militarism. If General Wood is elected president, it will be in spite of the fact that he is a soldier.

England, France, Italy and Japan—is the moral obligation of peace. They must draw up terms that will make peace and democracy safe. It is far easier to accept peace terms than to make them. We must be careful not to sow the seeds of another life-destraining engine as did Bismarck in 1870 when he laid down the peace terms to France at the close of the Franco-Prussian war.

Dr. Smith introduced a new phase into the general theme of his talk when he began to speak of America as we are today.

The high prices so prevalent in the country are the result of production. We are laying down on the job. Persons were formerly producing three times as much as they are, and are demanding three times as much money.

However, we think we are paying high prices but in comparison we are not. England has had living prices raised 137 per cent in two years, Italy 100, France 255, while America comes last with 107 per cent. We are all profiteering because we consume more than we produce. A profiteer is one who takes more from the common store than he puts into it. People are far too extravagant. Only one pair of cotton hose is sold to 50 pairs of costly silk hose.

He continued: "America in her greatest moment is breaking at the point of moral character. We were horrified when Germany broke her solemn contract with Belgium. But every day we are breaking our word of sacred and moral honor. There are 2,007 strikes in America today. Men drop their work and contracts to follow the gleam of a dollar. What we need is a revival of moral character. Our only hope is found in cultivating a living God."

"The Penalty of Peace is that we Americans must put to test our boasts of democracy."

"Down in the Dewey Dell, by Swart, rendered by the girl graduates, was a sweet lyrical selection, that proved a foil for the artist voices."

The diplomas of graduates were presented by Dr. L. S. Jackson, president of the Board of Education, in a neat speech extolling the merits of the class of 1920. The graduates received applause as they stepped forward to receive the coveted sheepskins. The exercises were closed by

Philosophy of a Cipher. Consider the cipher. It amounts to nothing in itself, but when put to work with others behind a good strong figure it adds wonderfully to the value of the group. But if a cipher puts on airs and gets out in front of the procession, it becomes valueless again. Men might take a lesson and learn that their value lies only as long as they stay on the job.

New Fish Story. A comatose Indian fisherman in a Hawaiian hospital was fishing along the fishery recently when he caught a small fish. This basket being a short distance away, he put the head of the fish in his mouth, and closed his teeth on it, while he was rebelling his book. The fish slipped into his throat, and struggling to escape, got stuck there. The fisherman was hurried into the hospital, where an incision was made and the fish removed just in time to save the patient from choking to death.

In order to fully carry out the plan for the cornerstone laying exercises, work is progressing rapidly on the church, work being started on the walls of the first floor.

To Observe 'Buy-A-Brick-Day'

'Buy A Brick Day' will be observed Sunday at First Presbyterian. Subscribers to receive one of the bricks as a token of appreciation. Each member of the church will be asked to purchase a brick in the name of the church. The bricks will be used in the construction of the new church building.

To Have Partial Use Of Arms

Mrs. Mary Nida of Salt Rock, W. Va. would have about three weeks of her arm and it was decided that she would then not be necessary to the time of both arms at the shoulder. Mrs. Nida's husband, the injured man, was called in New Boston, Ohio, and Dr. William Seitz of this city accompanied the woman to her home after a short time after arriving in the village. Physicians had planned to 'nail' the broken bones together but a special operation was performed from Cincinnati and after an examination said that Mrs. Nida is over sixty years of age.

After Hearing News That He Had Been Found Guilty Lad Asks For Ice Cream, Cigarettes

CHILICOTHE, June 11.—More information from the trial of Henry Devault, 17 year old lad, found guilty of murder in the first degree in common pleas court here Wednesday, was brought to light the fact that at the time the jury stood seven to five in favor of sending the boy to the electric chair.

When the verdict was finally brought in after seven hours of deliberation, it read as follows: "We, the jury, upon the facts joined, do find the defendant guilty as charged in the indictment, with a recommendation of mercy."

J. M. BOURROWS, Foreman.

The verdict was rendered at 4:15 p. m. in the absence of clerk Geo. J. Hehman. Judge John W. Goldsberry read the verdict, and polled the jury, all answering in the affirmative.

Young Devault gave no outward sign when the verdict was rendered. After the hearing with the grief stricken mother, the lad turned to Deputy Sheriff Henry Swope and asked for some cigarettes and ice cream.

Judge Goldsberry will sentence him Monday.

Furniture for Less!

Samuel Levi and Co. Joins the World's Greatest Purchasing Organization and Becomes Its Exclusive Portsmouth Agency
---Enabling Us to Save to Our Customers Thousands of Dollars

The Symbol That

Means a Saving

We take great pleasure in announcing to all our customers and to the thousands who are yet to become our customers that we are the authorized and accredited Portsmouth Member of the "ENPEO."

What Is The "ENPEO"

The "ENPEO" is a coined and is the trademarked name of The National Purchasing Organization. It means simply this: Five Hundred Retail Furniture Dealers of America have combined—as far as buying is concerned.

It requires no argument to convince anyone that 500 big prosperous Furniture Stores can buy much cheaper than a single solitary store.

The facts are: The "ENPEO" owns outright many of its own factories and will buy outright the entire output of many others. Just think of a Furniture Factory selling all it can make to one concern. The expense they would naturally undergo to sell their output is deducted from the price we pay, which means a much lower price to you who come into our store.

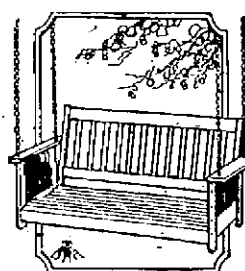

It further means that an "ENPEO" Store by purchasing the entire output of factories will have many lines of merchandise that other stores can't buy, which enables you to obtain exclusive styles.

The 500 members of the "ENPEO" are picked concerns. Merchants who believe in conducting their business along straightforward lines—men who practice daily the "SQUARE DEAL" Policy. Before long you will find the "ENPEO" symbol on the doors of 500 of America's best Furniture Stores and wherever you see that symbol you may feel you can walk in and buy furniture for less and also know that every statement made to you will be backed up to the letter.

There are dozens of other advantages about the "ENPEO" Stores but we haven't room to go into them here. The "Big Idea" is—it saves money for us and for you.

Examples That Prove Our Claims!

Just to prove to you that what we say is true we illustrate and price below several "ENPEO" Bargains. Most Furniture Dealers would be glad to buy wholesale these goods at the retail prices quoted below.

Republican Platform Adopted At The Chicago National Convention

Delegates Decisively Approve Various Planks

CHICAGO, June 11.—The text of the platform adopted by the Republican national convention follows:

Republican party, assembled in representative national convention reaffirms its unyielding devotion to the Constitution of the United States and to the guarantee of civil, political and religious liberty therein enshrined. It will resist all attempts to overthrow the foundations of the government or to weaken the force of its controlling principles and ideals, whether these attempts be made in the form of international policy or of domestic agitation.

For seven years the national government has been controlled by the Democratic party. During that period a war of unparalleled magnitude has shaken the foundations of civilization, dedicated the population of Europe, and left in its train economic misery and suffering second only to war itself. The outstanding features of the Democratic administration have been complete unpreparedness for war and complete unpreparedness for peace.

UNPREPAREDNESS FOR WAR

Inexcusable failure to make timely preparations is the chief indictment against the Democratic administration in the conduct of the war. Had not our associates protected us both on land and sea during the first twelve months of our participation, and furnished us to the very day of the armistice, the administration as it was found in the country demanded the early and systematic return to a peace-time basis. This called for vision, leadership and intelligent planning. All three have been lacking. While the country has been left to shift for itself, the government has continued on a war-time basis. The administration has not desisted from the army of place holders. It continued a method of financing which was indefensible during the period of reconstruction. It has used legislation passed to meet the emergency of war to continue its arbitrary and inquisitorial control over the life of the people in time of peace and to carry confusion into industrial life. Under the despot's plea of necessity or superior wisdom, executive usurpation of legislative and judicial functions still undermines our institutions. Eighteen months after the armistice with its war-time powers unbridled, its war-time departments undisciplined, its war-time army of place holders still mobilized, the administration continues to flounder hopelessly. The demonstrated incapacity of the Democratic party has destroyed public confidence, weakened the authority of government and produced a feeling of distrust and hesitation so universal as to increase enormously the difficulties of readjustment and to delay the return to normal conditions.

Never has our nation been confronted with graver problems. The people are entitled to know in definite terms how the parties propose solving these problems. To that end, the Republican party declares its policies and program to be as follows:

CONSTITUTIONAL GOVERNMENT

We undertake to end executive autocracy and to restore to the people their constitutional government.

FOREIGN RELATIONS

The foreign policy of the administration has been founded upon no principle and directed by no definite conception of our nation's rights and obligations. It has been humiliating to American and irritating to other nations, with the result that after a period of unexampled sacrifice, our motives are impugned, our moral influence impaired and our government stands discredited and friendless among the nations of the world.

We favor a liberal and generous foreign policy founded upon definite moral and political principles, characterized by a clear understanding of should leave our country free to develop its civilization along the lines most conducive to the happiness and welfare of the people, and to cast its influence on the side of justice and right should occasion require.

THE POLICY OF THE PRESENT ADMINISTRATION

The policy of the present administration in Mexican matters has been largely responsible for the continued loss of American lives in that country and upon our border; for the enormous loss of American and foreign property; for the lowering of American standards of morality and moral relations with Mexicans; and for the bringing of American ideals of justice and national honor and political integrity into contempt and ridicule in Mexico and throughout the world.

The policy of words, futile, written protests against acts of Mexican officials, explained the following day by the President himself as being meaningless and not intended to be considered seriously or enforced, has but added to the degree to that contempt and has earned for us the sneers and jeers of Mexican bandits and added insult upon insult against our national honor and dignity.

We should not recognize any Mexican government unless it be a responsible government.

MANDATE OF ARMINIA

We condemn President Wilson for asking congress to empower him to accept a mandate for Armenia. The acceptance of such a mandate would throw the United States into the very maelstrom of European quarrels. According to the estimate of the War-board commission, organized by authority of President Wilson, we would be called upon to send 50,000 American boys to police Armenia, and to expend $276,000,000 in the first year and $756,000,000 in five years. This estimate is made upon the basis that we would have only roving bands to fight, but in case of a serious trouble with the Turks or with Russia a force exceeding 200,000 would be necessary.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

The Republican party stands for agreement among the nations to preserve the peace of the world. We believe that such an international association must be based upon international justice and must provide methods which shall maintain the rule of public right by development of law and the decision of impartial courts and which shall secure instant and general international conference when peace shall be threatened by political action so that the nations pledged to do and insist upon what is just and fair, may exercise their influence and power for the prevention of war.

We believe all this can be done without the compromise of national independence, without depriving the people of the United States in advance of the right to determine for themselves what is just and fair, when the occasion arises, and without involving them as participants and not as peace-makers in a multitude of quarrels, the merits of which they are unable to judge.

The covenant, signed by the President at Paris, signed originally, failed to accomplish this purpose, and contained stipulations not only intolerable to the people, but also in violation of the Constitution. We believe all this can be done without the compromise of national independence, without depriving the people of the United States in advance of the right to determine for themselves what is just and fair, when the occasion arises, and without involving them as participants and not as peace-makers in a multitude of quarrels, the merits of which they are unable to judge.

The senators performed their duty faithfully. We approve their conduct and honor, their courage and fidelity and pledge the coming Republican administration to such agreement with the other nations of the world as shall meet the full duty of America to civilization and humanity in accordance with American ideals and without surrendering the right of the American people to exercise its judgment and its power in favor of justice and peace. Pointing to its history and relying upon its fundamental principles, we declare that the Republican party has the generous courage and constructive ability to end executive usurpation and restore constitutional government; to fulfill our world obligations without sacrificing our national independence; to raise the national standard of education, health, and general welfare; to reestablish a peace-time administration and to substitute economy and efficiency for extravagance and chaos; to restore and maintain the national credit; to reform unequal and burdensome taxes; to free business from arbitrary and unnecessary official control; to suppress dishonesty without denial of justice; to repel the arrogant challenge of any class; and to maintain a government of all the people as contrasted with government for some of the people and finally, to ally means, discipline and strife, and to secure the cooperation and unity of all citizens in the solution of the complex problems of the day, to the end that our country, happy and prosperous, proud of its past, sure of itself and its institutions, may look forward with confidence to the future.

POSTAL SERVICE

We condemn the present administration controlled by the government and for its failure to properly compensate employees whose expert knowledge is essential to the proper conduct of the telegraph and telephone service when affairs of the postal system.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

We welcome women into full participation in the affairs of government and the activities of the Republican party. We earnestly hope that Republican legislatures in states which have not yet acted upon woman suffrage will do so.

SOCIAL PROGRESS

We pledge the Republican party to the solution of these (social) problems through national and state legislation in accordance with the best progressive thought of the country.

EDUCATION AND HEALTH

We endorse the principle of federal aid to the states for purposes of vocational and agricultural training.

Wherever federal money is devoted to education, such education must be so directed as to awaken in the youth the spirit of America and a sense of patriotic duty to the United States.

CHILD LABOR

The Republican party stands for a federal child labor law and for its rigid enforcement.

WOMEN IN INDUSTRY

We commend congress for the permanent establishment of the women's bureau in the United States department of labor to serve as a source of information to the states and to congress.

HOUSING

Both national and state governments should encourage in all proper ways the acquiring of homes by our citizens. The United States government should make available the value of its resources.

HAWAII

For Hawaii we recommend: Federal assistance in Americanizing and educating the increasingly disproportionate foreign population; home rule and the rehabilitation of the Hawaiian race.

CONGRESS AND RECONSTRUCTION

Despite the unconstitutional and dictatorial course of the President and the partisan obstruction of the Democratic congressional majority, the Republican majority has enacted a program constructive legislation which in great part, however, has been nullified by the vindictive vetoes of the President.

The Republican congress has met the problems presented by the administration's unpreparedness for peace. It has repealed the greater part of the vexatious war legislation. It has enacted a transportation act making possible the rehabilitation of the railroad systems of the country, the operation of which, under the present Democratic administration, has been wasteful, extravagant and inefficient. In the highest degree, the Transportation act made provision for the peaceful settlement of wage disputes, partially nullified, however, by the President's delay in appointing the wage board created by the act. This delay precipitated the outbreak of strikes. We stopped the flood of public transportation which poured into the lap of the freight shipping board and laid the foundation for the creation of a great merchant marine. We took from the incompetent Democratic administration the administration of the telegraph and telephone lines of the country and returned them to private ownership; we reduced the cost of postage and increased the pay of the postal employees—the poorest paid of all public servants; we provided pensions for superannuated and retired civil servants and increased pay for soldiers and sailors; we reorganized the army on a peace footing and provided for the maintenance of a powerful and efficient navy. The Republican congress established by law a permanent woman's bureau in the department of labor; we submitted to the country the constitutional amendment for women's suffrage and furnished 29 of the 35 legislatures which have ratified it to date.

Legislation for the relief of the consumers of meat, poultry, and other foodstuffs, for the extension of the owners of the government railroad control act, for broadening the scope of the war risk insurance act, better provision for the dwelling of aged veterans of the Civil War and for the better support of the maimed and injured of the great war, and for making practical the vocational rehabilitation act, has been enacted by the Republican congress.

We passed an oil-leasing and water-power bill to unlock for the public the great pent-up resources of the country; we have sought to check the profligacy of the administration, to realize upon the assets of the government and to husband the revenues derived from taxation. The Republicans in congress have been responsible for cuts in the estimates for government expenditure of nearly three billion dollars since the signing of the armistice.

We enacted a legislative budget law; we strengthened the federal reserve act to permit banks to lend needed assistance to farmers; we authorized financial corporations to develop export trade and finally amended the rules of the senate and house, which will reform evils in procedure, guarantee more efficient and responsible government.

There are two different conceptions of the relations of capital and labor. The one is contractual and emphasizes the diversity of interests of employer and employee. The other is that of partnership in a common task.

We recognize the justice of collective bargaining as a means of promoting good will, establishing closer and more harmonious relations between employer and employee and realizing the true end of industrial justice.

The strike of the dockworkers, as a means of settling industrial disputes, inflicts such loss and suffering on the community as to justify government initiative to reduce its frequency and limit its consequences.

We deny the right to strike against the government; but the rights and interests of all government employees must be safeguarded by impartial laws and tribunals.

In public utilities we favor the establishment of an impartial tribunal to make an investigation of the facts and to render a decision to the end that there may be no organized interruption of service to the lives and health and welfare of the people. The decisions of the tribunal to be morally, but not legally binding, and an informed public sentiment to resist or to accept jurisdiction except for the purpose of investigation, as long as the public service is interrupted. For public utilities we favor the type of arbitration provided for in the Transportation act of 1920.

In private industries we do not advocate the principle of compulsory arbitration, but we favor impartial commission and better facilities for voluntary mediation, conciliation and arbitration supplemented by that full publicity which will elicit the influence of an aroused public opinion. The government should take the initiative in inviting the establishment of tribunals or commissions for the purpose of voluntary arbitration and investigation of this issue.

AGRICULTURE

The farmer is the backbone of the nation. National greatness and economic independence demand a population distributed between industry and the farm, and sharing on equal terms the prosperity which is wholly dependent on the efforts of both. Neither can prosper at the expense of the other without inviting joint disaster.

The crisis of the present agricultural condition lies in prices, labor and credit.

The Republican party believes that this condition can be improved by practical and adequate farm representation in the appointment of governmental officials and commissions; the right to form co-operative associations for marketing their products; and protection against discrimination; the scientific study of agricultural prices and farm production costs at home and abroad, with a view to reducing the frequency of abnormal fluctuations and unseasoned publication of such reports; the authorization of national farm loan associations for the extension of personal credit; a national inquiry into the coordination of rail, water and motor transportation, with adequate facilities for receiving, handling and marketing food; the encouragement of export trade; an end to unnecessary price-fixing and ill-considered efforts arbitrarily to reduce prices of farm products which invariably result to the disadvantage both of producer and consumer, and the encouragement of the production and exportation of fertilizing material and of its extensive use.

NATIONAL ECONOMY

A Republican congress reduced the estimates submitted by the administration for the fiscal year 1920 almost three billion dollars. Greater economies could have been effected had it not been for the stubborn refusal of the administration to cooperate with congress in an economy program. The universal demand for an executive budget is a recognition of the intolerable fact that leadership and sincere assistance on the part of the executive departments are essential to effective economy and constructive retrenchment.

The Overman act invested the president of the United States with all the authority and power necessary to restore the federal government to a normal peace basis and to reorganize, retrench and demobilize. The demand for a normal peace basis and to reorganize, retrench and demobilize. The demand for a normal peace basis and to reorganize, retrench and demobilize.

"California Syrup of Figs" Child's Best Laxative

Accept "California" Syrup of Figs only—look for the name California on the package, then you are sure your child is having the best and most harmless physic for the little stomach, liver and bowels. Children love its fruit taste. Full directions on each bottle. You must say "California."

Despite the unconstitutional and dictatorial course of the President and the partisan obstruction of the Democratic congressional majority, the Republican majority has enacted a program constructive legislation which in great part, however, has been nullified by the vindictive vetoes of the President.

The Republican congress has met the problems presented by the administration's unpreparedness for peace. It has repealed the greater part of the vexatious war legislation. It has enacted a transportation act making possible the rehabilitation of the railroad systems of the country, the operation of which, under the present Democratic administration, has been wasteful, extravagant and inefficient. In the highest degree, the Transportation act made provision for the peaceful settlement of wage disputes, partially nullified, however, by the President's delay in appointing the wage board created by the act. This delay precipitated the outbreak of strikes. We stopped the flood of public transportation which poured into the lap of the freight shipping board and laid the foundation for the creation of a great merchant marine. We took from the incompetent Democratic administration the administration of the telegraph and telephone lines of the country and returned them to private ownership; we reduced the cost of postage and increased the pay of the postal employees—the poorest paid of all public servants; we provided pensions for superannuated and retired civil servants and increased pay for soldiers and sailors; we reorganized the army on a peace footing and provided for the maintenance of a powerful and efficient navy. The Republican congress established by law a permanent woman's bureau in the department of labor; we submitted to the country the constitutional amendment for women's suffrage and furnished 29 of the 35 legislatures which have ratified it to date.

Legislation for the relief of the consumers of meat, poultry, and other foodstuffs, for the extension of the owners of the government railroad control act, for broadening the scope of the war risk insurance act, better provision for the dwelling of aged veterans of the Civil War and for the better support of the maimed and injured of the great war, and for making practical the vocational rehabilitation act, has been enacted by the Republican congress.

We passed an oil-leasing and water-power bill to unlock for the public the great pent-up resources of the country; we have sought to check the profligacy of the administration, to realize upon the assets of the government and to husband the revenues derived from taxation. The Republicans in congress have been responsible for cuts in the estimates for government expenditure of nearly three billion dollars since the signing of the armistice.

We enacted a legislative budget law; we strengthened the federal reserve act to permit banks to lend needed assistance to farmers; we authorized financial corporations to develop export trade and finally amended the rules of the senate and house, which will reform evils in procedure, guarantee more efficient and responsible government.

There are two different conceptions of the relations of capital and labor. The one is contractual and emphasizes the diversity of interests of employer and employee. The other is that of partnership in a common task.

We recognize the justice of collective bargaining as a means of promoting good will, establishing closer and more harmonious relations between employer and employee and realizing the true end of industrial justice.

The strike of the dockworkers, as a means of settling industrial disputes, inflicts such loss and suffering on the community as to justify government initiative to reduce its frequency and limit its consequences.

We deny the right to strike against the government; but the rights and interests of all government employees must be safeguarded by impartial laws and tribunals.

In public utilities we favor the establishment of an impartial tribunal to make an investigation of the facts and to render a decision to the end that there may be no organized interruption of service to the lives and health and welfare of the people. The decisions of the tribunal to be morally, but not legally binding, and an informed public sentiment to resist or to accept jurisdiction except for the purpose of investigation, as long as the public service is interrupted. For public utilities we favor the type of arbitration provided for in the Transportation act of 1920.

In private industries we do not advocate the principle of compulsory arbitration, but we favor impartial commission and better facilities for voluntary mediation, conciliation and arbitration supplemented by that full publicity which will elicit the influence of an aroused public opinion. The government should take the initiative in inviting the establishment of tribunals or commissions for the purpose of voluntary arbitration and investigation of this issue.

We demand the exclusion from interstate commerce of the products of convict labor.

AGRICULTURE

The farmer is the backbone of the nation. National greatness and economic independence demand a population distributed between industry and the farm, and sharing on equal terms the prosperity which is wholly dependent on the efforts of both. Neither can prosper at the expense of the other without inviting joint disaster.

The crisis of the present agricultural condition lies in prices, labor and credit.

The Republican party believes that this condition can be improved by practical and adequate farm representation in the appointment of governmental officials and commissions; the right to form co-operative associations for marketing their products; and protection against discrimination; the scientific study of agricultural prices and farm production costs at home and abroad, with a view to reducing the frequency of abnormal fluctuations and unseasoned publication of such reports; the authorization of national farm loan associations for the extension of personal credit; a national inquiry into the coordination of rail, water and motor transportation, with adequate facilities for receiving, handling and marketing food; the encouragement of export trade; an end to unnecessary price-fixing and ill-considered efforts arbitrarily to reduce prices of farm products which invariably result to the disadvantage both of producer and consumer, and the encouragement of the production and exportation of fertilizing material and of its extensive use.

The federal farm loan act should be administered as to facilitate the acquisition of farm land by those desiring to become owners and producers and thus minimize the evils of farm tenantry, and to furnish long-time credits as farmers may need to finance adequately their larger and long-time production operations.

Hurt In Wreck

C. A. Warren, who until recently was a resident of this city is in a hospital in Gallipolis suffering from injuries he received when he was in a serious wreck which took place near that village several days ago. He was badly hurt, but is now out of danger. Local relatives were advised Friday.

Dandruff Soon Ruins The Hair

Girls—if you want plenty of thick, beautiful, glossy, silky hair, do by all means get rid of dandruff, for it will starve your hair and ruin it if you don't. It doesn't do much good to try to brush or wash it out. The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips. By morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it. You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop, and your hair will look and feel a hundred times better. You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and four ounces is all you will need, no matter how much dandruff you have. This simple remedy never fails.

Janitors To Get Vacation

At a meeting of the Board of Education yesterday Clark Will Hazelbeck was instructed to draw a resolution to provide for an advance drawal for the janitors fund of $19,104.41.

The janitors in the local schools were given a two weeks vacation, the time to be arranged by Supt. Appel.

Road Being Improved

The county commissioners have a force of men improving the West Side road from the Galena Pike to the Lucasville bridge. It is being scraped and rolled and is being put in splendid shape.

Harry Grace Withdraws

JACKSON, June 10—Harry Grace who was prominently and favorably mentioned in many papers as a probable candidate for Probate Judge of Jackson county has withdrawn from the race leaving an apparently clear field for Fred M. Powell, of Wellston who was a soldier in the Great War. He is a son of E. C. Powell deceased. Grace is stenographer of the Court of appeals.

Two Members Of Picnic Party Almost Drowned

Philip Durich and Nona Bennett, members of a party of Anderson's, who were enjoying a picnic on the Alta Stockham place on the Little Schute Thursday afternoon about 2:30 were rescued from drowning by other members of the party. The unfortunate affair occurred about a quarter mile below Dixon's Mill.

Miss Bennett, who lives near Harrisonville, was being taught to swim by Albert Thomas, Hoover demonstration man, and when she got beyond her depth, he succeeded in getting her ashore.

Durich, who was in the water at the same time, was wearing water wings, which collapsed, and as he couldn't swim, he also came near drowning. Harry Davidson, another member of the party, attempted to rescue him, but was unsuccessful in his attempts. He called his brother, Paul Davidson, who was swimming further up stream, and Paul succeeded in saving Durich's life. Herman Blockman, son of Alva, threw a log to the helpless man.

Other members of the party, who motored out in one of Anderson's machines, were Miss Nellie Emert and Chas. C. Mohl.

On Way To Meeting To Boost Safety First Hugh Higgins Is Knocked Down By Auto

Hugh H. Higgins of the Portsmouth Street Railroad and Light company has long been a firm believer in safety first. Since starting for a Safety First Week meeting at the Chamber of Commerce rooms Thursday afternoon he is all the more a booster of that idea.

How Mr. Higgins obtained additional data on Safety First from the time he left his office until he reached the C. of C. rooms makes an interesting item. He alighted from a street car at Sixth and Chillicothe streets, and in starting across the street was struck by an automobile and knocked down. After brushing his clothes he continued on to the meeting but after arriving at the meeting his side began to hurt him. He had to leave the meeting and go to his home where an examination showed that his right side was badly bruised and lacerated and right arm lacerated.

Mr. Higgins failed to obtain the name of the driver of the machine which did not stop after knocking him down.

Must File Petitions Before Midnight

The name of Dr. J. D. Hendrickson was added to the list of Republican candidates whose names will appear on the G. O. P. ticket in the August primary. He certified in Thursday and wants re-nomination as a member.

Frank B. Laid, Harrison township farmer, was the only other candidate to file a declaration Thursday. He wants the nomination for county engineer and his entry makes four candidates on the Republican side for the three members of the board, the present commissioners having previously filed for re-nomination. The time limit for the filing of declarations expires Friday midnight. Democrats are expected to file a complete county ticket.

Judge Harry Bell will deliver the address of welcome and the response will be made by Richard Anderson of the 1920 class. Mrs. Lura Kline Bell will give a toast, "In Memoriam." Other toasts will be given by Lora Cunningham and George W. Newman.

Alumni Banquet Tonight

The alumni reunion of the Portsmouth High School will be held tonight in the Elks Club, Sixth and Chestnut streets. The festivities will start at 7 o'clock and continue until midnight.

The children of the M. E. church will meet Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock for their final practice for the Children's Day program to be given Sunday evening. Every child is urged to be present.

The local hardware store and also the Wolf Clothing store of Galla Avenue which was damaged by fire when the Electric market burned have been repaired.

WET AND DRY PLATFORM IS LOST IN THE SHUFFLE

CHICAGO, June 11.—The Republican platform plank designed to deal with prohibition got lost in the shuffle yesterday, furnished a new thrill for "wets" and "dry" and raised some "question of its legal status."

The plank does not mention prohibition, but is a "law and order" declaration for enforcement of all laws.

In a mix-up from confusion of platform work, the plank was left from the great pile taken to the Coliseum and read by Chairman Watson of the resolution committee. It was not read to the convention and was not in the platform as originally adopted, but Senator Snoot and others in charge of the document declared it was adopted by the resolutions committee and is a part of the platform.

Dry leaders, were assured before the committee headed at breakfast speed for the Coliseum, that the "law and order" plank was in the platform under Senator Watson's arm. No report of its absence was heard until Senator Watson's attention was called to the omission. Prohibition leaders also were under the impression that the platform listed the Volstead enforcement act among Republican congressional endorsements but as read it contained no such endorsement.

Finalay streets. It's members are colored people.

Dear Dolly—Please tell me there is any day in town who will cover parades and who it is.

A READER.
Take your parcel to one of the dry goods stores and they will recover it for you.

Miss Dolly Wise—I am a young girl 20 years old and am looking for board and room in a private family. If you happen to know of any place at the present time please let me know.

I have this girl's name and address.

Miss Dolly Wise—Portsmouth, O.—I am going to ask you to settle a dispute for Jim and I, in regard to gambling and getting drunk. I think a gambler is worse than a drunkard because he hides around in the bushes and old out buildings afraid of every sound he hears, expecting to be caught and fined any moment.

While I think a drunkard will go boldly to the place where he can buy his place and don't care who sees him, Jim thinks the drunkard is the worse, so we decided to let you settle our dispute.

JIM AND KENNY.
They are both laid up, but I think a drunkard is the limit. He don't care who sees him because when he reaches that stage he has lost all respect for himself and everyone else.

An individual drunkard is about the worst thing imaginable. I haven't any use for professional gamblers either.

Miss Dolly Wise—As I am a lone soldier boy, I would like to correspond with some nice Portsmouth girl. A friend told me about you, and told me to write to you. My home is in Portsmouth. He also said he wrote to your column and he got some letters. So please publish my address in your paper if you would not mind.

I have black eyes and black hair 5 ft. 2 inches. Address is:

PVT. CLAUDE SANDERS,
Battery L, 5th Field Artillery,
Camp Taylor, Ky.

SOCIETY

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. William Huffman, a bride and groom of recent date, Mr. and Mrs. Gen. Stark entertained a merry party at Zuehl's Hall, Pond Creek, Wednesday evening.

Miss Hazel Dressler, a bride-elect, was complimented last evening, when Miss Mildred Williams entertained the members of Mrs. Howard Sellar's Sunday School class, Trinity church, at her home, Sixth and Campbell avenues.

The guests spent the evening in home-making dust clothes which were later presented to Miss Dressler. Later she was the recipient of a sterling silver tea set, and a message bouquet. The dining room presented a true pre-nuptial appearance, in its color scheme of pink and white. Pink ruffled roses formed the centerpiece. A handsome table marked the place of the honor guest. The place cards were hand-painted with a figure of a sailor bride gracing one end. Small pink baskets filled with infants were given as favors adding to the general attractiveness of the table. Pink and white lace and cake were served by the hostess.

The guests included Mrs. Howard Sellar, Mrs. Elizabeth Wilcox and son Everett, Mrs. Raymond Lowther, Mrs. Otis Post, Misses Marie McCull, Ruth Russell, Edith Clausen, Bertha Louise Sellar and the guest of honor.

Mrs. Walter Crabtree was the hostess at an afternoon party, Wednesday, the members of the Jolly Fifteen club, at her home on Highland avenue. The hours passed pleasantly aided by art needlework and chatting. Music was rendered by Misses Kathryn and Marie, and Mr. Wilbur Crabtree.

Mrs. Crabtree was assisted by Miss Bess Allison. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Robert Heath, Seventeenth street, in two weeks.

The Mandy M. E. church parlors were the scene of a birthday celebration when the Women's Home Missionary organization banqueted the members of their families, and friends on the cent of their fortieth anniversary. Three large tables were given a festive appearance by large frosted birthday cakes, and baskets of cut flowers. Three birthday cakes, for the "Mothers' Jewel," "Home Guards" and another for the other organizations. Three interesting talks were given.

"The Beginning of the W. H. M. S.," by Mrs. George Jordan, "Our Own W. H. M. S.," by Mrs. Ida Moore, and "Home Guard," by Mrs. R. C. Meeks.

After the banquet an invitation was extended to the guests to enter the auditorium where a program was given by the younger societies of the church. A birthday offering amounting to $10 was taken.

IF YOU ARE EASILY TIRED OUT YOUR BLOOD NEEDS PURIFYING

Clogged-up impurities will undermine your health. As summer approaches the impurities that have been accumulating in the system throughout the winter begin to clog up the circulation, causing a general weakness and debilitated condition that is generally known as "Summer Sickness."

The first symptoms are usually a loss of appetite, followed by a general feeling of weakness, the system becomes weaker day by day, until you feel yourself on the verge of a breakdown. Chills just at this season are frequent and irritable and become purged.

This whole condition is but the result of impurities in the blood that have been accumulating and making themselves felt more distinctly with the change of season. They show that nature needs assistance in giving the system a general housecleaning.

Swiss physicians just now advise a few bottles of S. S. S., the great vegetable blood purifier to cleanse out all impurities. It is good for the children, for it gives them new strength and puts their system in good condition.

So they can more easily resist the many ailments so prevalent in summer. S. S. S. is without an equal as a general tonic and system builder. It improves the appetite and gives new vigor and vitality to both old and young.

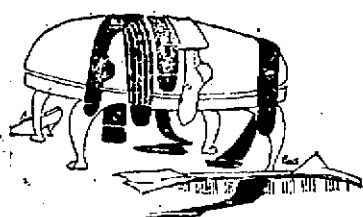

Full information and valuable literature can be had by writing to Swift Laboratories, 600 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.

Order Under Adversity
The divorce suit of Mary L. Curry, bearing house keeper, 210 Gay street, against Arthur G. Curry, former local stationary engineer, was heard by Judge Thomas in Common Pleas court Friday and then taken under advisement.

They were married Jan. 12, 1913, and she charged neglect and desertion.

The plaintiff told the court that Curry quarreled and cursed her because she would not get out riding with him and she declared that he abandoned her in August 1919 for the association of another woman named Clio Stewart-Jenkins.

The plaintiff was represented by Attorney H. F. Kimble.

SOCIETY

Miss Emma Ware, Columbia, is the daughter of Mrs. John Brumby, of the Everland Mission Church, at 107 Grandview avenue. Miss Ware was formerly of this city.

The teachers of the Fourth street school gave a five course luncheon Thursday noon at the home of the Misses Kilgus, 517 Fourth street, in honor of Miss Della Smith who will take place June 24. At the conclusion of the luncheon, Miss Ella Vigus read an original poem entitled "The Weeping of a Bride" and then presented the guest of honor with a tray of useful kitchen articles, a silver tea set, and a set of silver toilet forks. The following teachers were present: Misses Beale, Smith, Kere Vigus, Catherine Burns, Mildred Nell, Nell Fawn, Helen Uhl, Bertha Kellman, Merle Little, Harriet Scott, Kate Combs, Margaret and Ruth Klingman.

Miss Helen Thornton and Mr. Charles Wolford, both of Olney, were quietly married Friday morning at the Rectory parsonage, Fifth and Washington streets, by Rev. C. E. Chandler.

A chicken dinner at Liverside Farm was enjoyed by ten members of the Alpha Club, and three visitors Wednesday at 8 p. m. Those present were: Myrdene Albert, Ed. John, Ruth, E. H. Coburn, J. R. Boxer, Philip Keast, Charles Robin, G. T. White, Henry Saunders, Mrs. May Coburn, Misses Maud Smith, Blanche Sarapian and Gertrude Bibeby.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmore Beale and family of Eighth street left Friday on a motor trip to Detroit, where they will visit relatives and friends. On Monday they will visit Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bickel, former Portsmouth relatives. They reside in South Bend, Ind.

Miss Helen Chick arrived home, Friday, from Ohio Wesleyan University, to spend the summer months with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Chick, of Union Place.

Days of olden days, a splendid program of delicious refreshments consisting of strawberries, ice-cream, and other helped to pass a very pleasant afternoon Thursday, when Mrs. W. L. McFadden's class of the Trinity M. E. Sunday School, entertained at the home for aged women. Sixty-five guests were present.

The ATTENTION of the housewives of Portsmouth and vicinity is directed to Page 6 of the newspaper on Tuesday, June 15th. Don't miss it.

The home of Miss Hilda M. Montevan, 1719 Jackson avenue, was the scene of a delightful affair Thursday evening when she entertained the D. K. Kensington Club. The rooms, which were thrown open for the occasion were beautifully decorated with pink and white roses and orange blossoms.

The evening was spent in art needle work and congenial chat, followed by a dainty pick and white ice course, served by the hostess, assisted by her sister, Mrs. Robert C. Spangler. Those who enjoyed the evening were Misses Margaret Frantz, Marcelle McFadden, Adelaide Orlett, Clara Gengenbacher, Gertrude Kirby, Margaret Vetter, Elizabeth Orlett, Genevieve Thomson, and Catherine Miller.

The next meeting will be held Thursday evening, June 24th, at the home of Miss Margaret Frantz, 601 Market street.

Chris Hansen left Friday for Columbus to meet his wife who has arrived there after a visit with relatives in the East. She visited Jamestown, N. Y. and Bradford, Pa. They will remain a few days in Columbus.

Mrs. Stanley R. Prichard, Fourth street, will leave Saturday for Columbus where she will visit her daughter, Mildred, at Ohio State University. Saturday evening they will witness the Browning play which offers "The Merchant of Venice" with an all-star cast. Sunday they will motor to Delaware to visit the Portsmouth girls attending Ohio Wesleyan University. Monday afternoon and evening they will be guests at a tea and dance, respectively, given by the Alpha Delta Delta sorority. Mrs. Prichard and daughter will motor from Columbus Tuesday.

Miss Hazel Dressler, who will become the bride of Mr. Richard Price, Wednesday, June 16, was presented with a Pyrex baking set Wednesday evening by the teachers of the Campbell avenue school, who entertained for her informally.

Mrs. H. C. Whard of Stewart, Ohio, and Mrs. P. G. Hawk and daughter, Deana of Chillicothe are guests at the home of Agent and Mrs. Edward Whard, 1723 Eighth street. They came here to attend the local high school commencement. Miss Lillian Fay Whard, was a member of the graduating class.

The Juniors of P. H. S., Friday afternoon enjoyed a hayride to Turkey Creek, where they spent the afternoon.

Mrs. M. K. Hitzcock and son Maurion of Waller street, are visiting her mother, Mrs. Robert Hood of Beaverville, O.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Hitzcock and son Billy, and Mrs. W. F. Hamilton and children, Lillian, Louis and Anna, will leave Monday for an extended trip to Los Angeles, Cal.

Women Return; Affidavits Withdrawn

Two women, Mrs. Lucille Carpenter, 2201 20th street, Newport, Ky., and Mrs. Hazel Vanover, 2201 13th street, this city, were held Thursday night on charges of abducting their children.

It was alleged the Carpenter woman left her home and two children at Newport, more than a month ago and Mrs. Vanover, who has one child, joined a carnival company here several days ago.

Other Carpenter and McKinley Vanover, husbands of the writing women, after filing charges in the local Municipal court located the women with the carnival shows at Keokuk, W. Va., and going there Thursday last night to return to this city.

Friday the husbands paid the costs in the case and the two women were released as they agreed to remain at home. The affidavits filed against them were withdrawn.

THE BIG NOISE AHEAD

It is too bad, but there doesn't appear any prospect of mending. Ohio is going to have a hoisterous senatorial primary on hand this summer.

Frank Willis, erstwhile Our Good Young Governor has filed for position, Judge Wanamaker was already in and 'tis said Theodore E. Burton, sojourning in New York, for lo, these many years, will also be an entrant. With an unknown by the name of Ryan, hailing it is believed from Akron, the prospect for peace and quietude is nil and ill.

Just look at it. Willis, who loves to hear himself talk, and Wanamaker, who has both a penchant and a power for starting a row, to say nothing of the other two.

Willis, of course, will pose as the heir-apparent of Harding and Wanamaker will claim all as a plain, progressive citizen, who doesn't tie himself to the coat-tail of any boss, not even the party itself, when it isn't right, with Wanamaker saying as to what is right, Burton is solid and aggressive too in his own way and will be no minor figure in the turmoil. As to the last of the quartet nothing, on an entire lack of information, can be said. It is understood, however, that he will offer himself as the candidate of the plain business interests and that ought to add a mite to gaiety of the situation.

In the field, not as the most likely winner, however, we would pick Burton. He has both our admiration and our sympathy. As a former senator he stood staunch and true for the best interests of the country, as he saw it, and he was far oftener correct than mistaken in what those best interests were. He was neither appreciated, nor properly treated by his party, which allowed a lot of small and miserable politicians drive him from place.

A MORE DREADFUL PROSPECT

HOPE'S of encouraging an international brotherhood, builded on the holding of the Federation of Labor convention in Montreal, have vanished and the convention finds itself not half as pleasantly situated as the fellow who had to take his chance between the devil and the deep blue sea.

It's the eternal clash of race and view, of course. The executive committee started the ruction by proposing that the convention endorse the league of nations. Everybody appeared agreed, to that except some Irishmen and you'll usually find several of them about when a row is brooding. They rose with a roar and threatened, if the endorsement was made, to bolt. Then, just as if that were not enough, they wanted it resolved that Ireland should be free, which they maintained she never could be under the league of nations plan. Scare was this out of their mouths when the Canadians were on their feet vociferating if any such flimsy as that got by the assembly they would be found on the outside.

So there they are, with the leaders hundreds of miles away in Chicago, making "demands" upon the Republican convention. Supposedly the belligerents are resting upon their arms until the big ones get back.

A TEMPEST IN A TEAPOT

NEITHER the melancholy of Republicans nor the jocundity of Democrats was justified by the row at Chicago over the league of nations plank.

There is disagreement a plenty, but its fury and seriousness is vividly magnified by the reporters, who do not find much else of color, while a leaderless and unbossed convention marks time. Platforms are not the vitally essential things politicians place upon them when they are preparing them for conventions. Not one voter out of ten ever reads one and not one out of a hundred cares a fig what is in one. No platform ever played a conspicuous part in a party's success, with the exception of that of the free silver one the Democrats adopted in 1896.

So the Republican convention never had a prospect of a split over a pronouncement on the league of nations. The disturbance was in the platform committee and for outside consumption. It was composed in an hour and was adopted without serious protest. Talks of bolts and bolting is all persiflage, or gossiping indulged in by idle delegates, upon whom ariid Chicago is heavily pulling.

Those fellows at Chicago show they know what they are there for. The biggest cheer Chairman Lodge got to his keynote speech was when he said Wilson and every Democrat should be turned out of their jobs.

If Harding has his whole state delegation behind him stannely his chances for the nomination would be more than fair. Funny too, isn't it, when you come to think about it, that a little thing like a man having some enemies is the test of his suitability and not his personal qualifications? But that's the way the politicians look at it, always votes and nothing else but votes.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

IN WHICH OUR HEROINE DETERMINES TO ESCAPE

What a moment! Maybe the world can imagine how I felt as I felt myself falling into the clutches of my Nemesis. Tears came to my eyes, but a gentle squeeze from Cecil made me come to my senses just in time.

"Why, Lindsey dear, where on earth were you? I have been waiting and waiting for you, and Julia (my cousin) has just gone home. She despairs of your arriving at all. Of course you know how persistent your Aunt Patricia is. She just waited, and I am rewarded, as you see."

All this time she was gazing first at me, then at Cecil. I had the forethought to introduce him to her as Mr. Walter Jones, which threw her off the track completely, and I knew would have any scandalizing in my home town, in case my cousin wrote saying that she had caught me at the station going into the arms of a young man. After all Cecil has been accused of enough crimes, where I am concerned.

Mr. Jones explained that he had been on the same train as me and told of the accident to my slipper, which had detained me for so long. Then Aunt Patricia told me that her motor was waiting without and piloted me towards it. I just had time to whisper frantically to Cecil to be sure and call me up within an hour of two at the house, for I must get away from family, come what may. He nodded in reply. It's comforting to know that there is one person who will never fail you. I almost wish that Cecil were..... No, I'm not sure of myself as yet so must not put any thoughts into words.

We climbed into the family motor and were driven solemnly off to the family mansion in Beacon street. I don't know what it is about the city of Boston that irritates me so. Maybe it is the strangeness of life, drawing along everywhere about you, or maybe it is the lack of imagination in the hearts of the Boston women. Who knows? The one thing certain is that I am always peeved and outraged as soon as I catch sight of the State House. It is my Welsh-Irishian ancestry cropping out, I imagine. Some of my ancestors on both sides were very wild people, I have heard. They ought to see Lindsey. How they would condemn those of the family who in the brightness of their hearts emigrated

Elbe Martin

"Tell Binkley went to the city to stay in a new car, and may have some other improvements made on his last year's straw hat. What's become of the actress that used to also display a little talent?"

WHO'S WHO In The Days News

MRS. JOHN GLOVER SOUTH

Voters have heard a good deal about Mrs. John Glover South during the past few months, and will doubtless hear a great deal more when the presidential campaign gets well under way. Mrs. South is chairman of the women's division of the Republican national committee, and is head over heels in politics.

Mrs. South is the daughter of William H. Bradley of Frankfort, Kentucky, and a cousin of the present Republican Governor, Edwin C. Morrow, who credits her with considerable of the 30,000 majority which he rolled up in the recent election. Her father was a Republican, the first to put Republicanism "on the map" in Kentucky; he was the first Republican governor ever elected in that state, and the first Republican senator ever sent from Kentucky to represent that state in the national capital.

Mrs. South was an only child and was her father's close companion and confidant, going with him through the state when he made his campaigns and in that way familiarizing herself with big questions and issues. Senator Bradley was an attorney and Mrs. South read law in his offices for two years with the idea of taking up law as a profession. Her father's political career, which carried him out of the state into the national capital, together with her own marriage shortly thereafter, ended this dream. However, she stood her ground during her father's interest in suffrage in Kentucky, where she took an active part and was for years one of the leaders in the movement, at one time being chairman of the state suffrage organization.

BILLY WHISKERS

BY FRANCES TREGO MONTGOMERY

When Billy had about finished his explorations he heard the Chinaman calling, "Dee-lee, Dee-lee, Dee-lee."

"I suppose he means me, so since he makes my name sound so much like Dee-lee, I will carry out the notion and make a bedtime for him," said Billy.

"Whereas you been, Dee-lee?" said the Chinaman when he saw Billy running toward him. "Come here longee in a here-see; I have something good for you," and he gave Billy a piece of Johnnie-cake that had been scorched in the baking and which he did not want the ranchman to see because of the wasted meal.

While Billy Jr. was eating, the Chinaman threw himself down upon a wooden bench in the corner of the room, took two or three whiffs from his opium pipe and was soon fast asleep, dreaming doubtless of his old, sweet-sweetheart in the Orient. When Billy saw the pipe fall from his hand, he took first a small and then a taste of the powder that had spilled out of it upon the floor; and soon he felt the most delightful, drowsy sensation stealing over him, and he curled himself up by the bench near the Chinaman and was soon dreaming

Woodland Walks

How sweet it is, when mother fancy rocks

The wayward brain, to saunter through a wood.

An old place, full of many a lonely brood.

Tall trees, green arbors, flowers in flocks.

And wild rose tiptoe upon hawthorn stocks.

Like to a bouncy lass, who plays her pranks.

At wakes and fairs with wandering mountebanks.

Stands cresting the clown's head and mocks.

The crowd beneath her. Verily, I think.

Such place is sometimes like a dream.

Map of the world, thoughts, link by link.

Enter through ear and eyesight, with such gleam.

Of all things, that at last in fear I shrink.

And leap at once from the delicious dream.

—William Wordsworth.

Youthful Idealism

Mother—Now, Willie, come along and make yourself useful.

"You're always telling me to make myself useful, mother. I wish I could be useless once in a while."—Life.

Hill and Run

Perhaps Mrs. does not consider this earth in her class.

Men are known by the company they seek—to promote.

The old money number 13 has now been superseded by 27a.

Some one should say something about the high cost of driving.

It is a pity that campaign promises cannot be followed by breach of promise suits.

After all the world loves a good kick-or. Even drinks minus the "kick" are not popular.

In Time

An Irishman getting upon a tram-car, found a vacant place, which he occupied.

"Sir," he said, "I came just in the nick of time."

"How is that?"

"Well, if I was to come now, I wouldn't find a single seat."—Hogs' Life for February.

Cautious Comment

"Did anybody comment on the way you handled your new car?"

"One man made a brief remark. 'Fifty dollars and costs'."—Boston Transcript.

The Reason

"Why is it that you never ask your lady customers what size they wear when they come in for new shoes?"

asked the friend. "Well," replied the shoe dealer, "it is a lot easier to measure their feet than to argue with them."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Eventually

Customer—I'd like to get a suit of clothes. Clerk—Sorry, sir, we don't handle them. Customer—Don't humiliate me! Well, I must say this is a damned poor drug store.—Es.

Hope That Failed

The great ocean liner rolled and pitched.

"Henry," faltered the young bride, "do you still love me?"

"More than ever, darling," was Henry's fervent answer.

Then there was an eloquent silence.

"Henry," she gasped, turning her pale, ghastly face away, "I thought that would make me feel better, but it doesn't."—London Opinion.

New-York - Day - By - Day

BY O. O. MONTGOMERY

NEW YORK, June 10.—Thoughts while strolling around New York:

A perilous job. Carrying a plate glass window across Broadway. Hand-painted hat boxes. Never see an old-fashioned military cap. I hope they follow catches his straw hat. Don't know this part of town. Ought to get directions in this cigar store. They'll know the ropes. (Unconscious pun.)

Couple of old sidewalk flower peddlers quarreling. One called the other a "gorrill." Might start their own little war of the roses. There goes a man who wrote a truly great novel. And it didn't reach 2000 copies. The spendable rewards go to the cheap jack and mountebank. No wonder he looks the cynic. I think I'll tell him. No. I haven't the nerve. I'll write him.

Cubaret advertises "The Laughing Trombone." A woman touching up her lips before entering a church. Old doorman at that movie palace was once a clock known as "The Buzzard." Went straight when people thinned his little daughter. And she became a pick-pocket.

Colin O'More, the tenor. A great name for a singer. And just as one would imagine he has early hair. I never saw a bold tenor. Wish I could get a plate of fried onions for lunch. Look at that post man weighted down with mail, and he doesn't get a living wage. I'll write our Congressman tonight.

Kiddies playing baseball in the street. Scouts at each corner to watch for the cops. And only a brutal cop would stop them. Belated back from London. Old habit he has of plucking at his ear. Bathers picketing a big shop. One dollar is too much for a haircut.

Now and then a whiff of salt sea air. Wonder how much a bathing suit will cost this year. I'm too thingy to walk around in the beach. And I'm afraid to get out very far in the water. But I like the ocean. It fills me full of big thoughts. There goes a vap wagon to Coney Island. It's off.

Lately the great docks around Manhattan have had a peculiar attraction. And I cannot read enough of Joseph Conrad's sea tales. I am as fast as any big liner docks. The fore generally comes to boys in long pants instead of men with streaks of gray. But it is a strange fascination—a fascination that leaves one breathless and confused. You see steamers bound for Rotterdam, Antwerp, London, Sydney, Valparaiso and other places. They take on curious freight—the meat of coconuts, silk, spices, automobiles, structural steel. They flow through rain and sun and nights. And there they are—accustomed quickly to docks. Steamers that have been everywhere and know everything. And about as romantic looking as a dill-pickle.

The eleventh hour, or, rather, a o'clock rush to the delicatessen store that marks the approach of dinner is there; a crowd of frenzied housewives would have secured any strange looking phenomenon to the good housewife of old New York. They would have been ill provided should they have been than six months previous in the order. According to the memory of a boy of seventy five years ago the thrifty Dutch folk who lived along the west side of what is now downtown New York laid in stores in October and November to last until April and May. In the old days fish were plentiful in the river that they dropped off almost any what they caught in a dinner. The steady sea shops that have two clerks during the day triple their force at five o'clock for the six o'clock rush which lasts until eight or nine. Many years ago bank clerks find it a means of adding a little extra money and they don't leave their aprons and sell cheap goods and ham in remote neighborhoods.

Quite Necessary

"We must have the wedding at two, not four, dearest."

"But, Fred, I wished it at four. Why not?"

"Your father is going to give us a check for a wedding present, isn't he?"

"Yes, but what has that to do with it?"

"Why, darling, don't you know that the banks close at three?"

The Reason

"You surprise me by saying your husband is so amusing. I have always been led to believe that he is a very serious man."

"He is. That's what makes him so amusing."

Queer Cook

Mrs. A.—The new cook behaves very strangely. I'm rather suspicious of her. Mrs. B.—What does she do? Mrs. A.—She acts as if she thought the whole house belongs to her.—Boston Transcript.

Internal Accident

Grikes—When I don't catch the name of the person I've been introduced to, I ask if it's spelled with an "e" or an "i." It generally works.

Briggs—I used to try that dodge myself until I was introduced to a young lady at a party. When I put the question about the "e" or "i" she flushed angrily and wouldn't speak the whole evening.

"I found out later it was—HBL."—London Tit-Bits.

Eventually

Customer—I'd like to get a suit of clothes. Clerk—Sorry, sir, we don't handle them. Customer—Don't humiliate me! Well, I must say this is a damned poor drug store.—Es.

Hope That Failed

The great ocean liner rolled and pitched.

"Henry," faltered the young bride, "do you still love me?"

"More than ever, darling," was Henry's fervent answer.

Then there was an eloquent silence.

"Henry," she gasped, turning her pale, ghastly face away, "I thought that would make me feel better, but it doesn't."—London Opinion.

Businesslike Hotel Man.

To provide exercise for his guest the manager of a string of California tourist hotels has furnished at each a common, old-fashioned wooden bed equipped with axes of various weights and not too sharp. Guests are to come to chop to their heart's content.

Success.

Life is indelicate—a bundle of contradictions. We men, with our ideal strive to give it a particular shape by melting it into a particular mold—the definiteness of success. All the world conquerors, from Alexander down to the American millionaires—could themselves into a sword or club, and thus find that distinct image of themselves which is the source of their success. —Rabindranath Tagore.

World's Oldest Statue.

In a museum at Boalak there is a statue supposed to be over 8,000 years old. A great French Egyptologist, Mariette Ber, discovered the statue at Memphis and brought it to the museum. It is little more than three feet high and holds a staff. The figure is full of life and poise. The forehead is rounded, expressing intellect of the eyes, of crystal, set in bronze give an astounding lifelike appearance. The statue is not the work of a crude barbarian and few artists living today could impart such realistic features to a wooden statue.
